The Olive Grove Years

Discover the stories that defined Sheffield Wednesday as one of England's finest football clubs

In 1887 The Wednesday Football Club moved to Olive Grove and entered into a defining moment in their history. Over the course of 12 seasons, Wednesday would twice reach the FA Cup final, winning the completion in 1896, capture the Football Alliance in 1890-91 and then join the elite teams of the Football League in 1892-93. Olive Grove played host to many famous football matches and was a fortress when it came to big FA Cup ties. Many colourful characters played in our famous blue and white stripes during this golden period in the clubs history. Mark Metcalf and Clive Nicholson, the authors of the successful Flying Over An Olive Grove book, will host this special evening that pays tribute to these players and the ground that they played upon.

Using big screen projections Clive and Mark will showcase a superb collection of photographs, illustrations and ephemera. Families from players who played on Olive Grove will be present and a large collection of memorabilia will be on display, including medals, caps and badges that will never be on public view again.

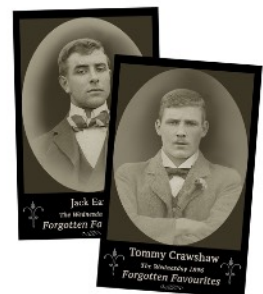

As part of the evening everyone present will receive a free copy of 'the Olive Grove Scrapbook' a 40-page book that has been exclusively produced for the event. The first 50 people to purchase tickets will also receive a set of eleven 1896 'Forgotten Favourites' collector cards, featuring the players that brought the FA Cup back to Yorkshire for the very first time.

Mark and Clive's previous talks around the UK have proved immensely popular due to Mark's extensive knowledge of football and Clive's unrivalled collection of images that he collected during his 26 years of research into the life of Wednesday legend Fred Spiksley. The collection include photographs of Olive Grove itself and action photographs of the 1896 FA Cup Final.

This is an evening that is not to be missed.
